

divine write

IT's Biggest Names Give Australian Bellerephon the Seal of Approval

Former General Manager of Microsoft Management Solutions, and a Vice President and General Manager for Tivoli, Dr. Israel Gat today put his very substantial weight behind Australian owned IT company, Bellerephon.

Committed to matching IT networks to business needs, Bellerephon is a certified Microsoft Partner – owned, managed, and backed by some of the IT world's most respected names. According to Microsoft, Bellerephon is a breath of fresh air to any business with an IT infrastructure.

Today's announcement by Dr. Gat, has really opened the eyes of some of the big players. "Value is shifting from 'shrink-wrapped' products to network-delivered services, and computing environments are becoming increasingly dynamic. Unfortunately, we're seeing critical operational needs going unaddressed", Dr. Gat says. "Bellerephon is one of very few companies in the world that successfully pulls together technology, talent, and processes to provide effective end-to-end management solutions for its customers."

And Dr. Gat doesn't use the word "talent" lightly. Principals Nick Beaugeard and Antony Lewis have nearly 30 years top-flight industry experience. Nick is a systems management expert with 16 years experience in Australia, the UK, and the US. Microsoft Operations Framework and ITIL certified, he has headed two IT consultancy firms, and was also a program manager with the Microsoft Windows Development Team. Antony worked for 12 years with an international FMCG company, and brings a wealth of project management and commercial experience to the business.

To complement their impressive skillsets, Nick and Antony have diligently sought out and employed the best talent the international IT market has to offer. Averaging 15 years IT experience each, Bellerephon's employees have contributed to the success of many of the major forces including Microsoft, HP, IBM, Novell, Unisys, General Motors, Ford, Mobil, Sydney Futures Exchange, MLC, NZI, and CrystalGate.

According to Dr Gat, this superior expertise is one reason why Bellerephon is "nicely positioned to contribute to, and take advantage of, the forthcoming revitalisation of the IT industry".

But Antony believes there's much more to it than that. "The IT industry suffers from a 'breakdown maintenance' mentality". He believes the industry needs to adopt more progressive strategies, and that's where Bellerephon comes in. "We're about predicting and preventing, not just reacting."